

Algonquin College's School of Part-time Studies is introducing an exciting new motorsport course — Introduction to Car Rallying.

Taught by experienced rallyists from the Motorsport Club of Ottawa (including a Canadian national co-driving champion), the course encompasses the following topics:

- Navigational Rallying, the introductory level of rallying that allows the two-person team to experience the excitement without the necessity of high speeds; and
- Performance Rallying, a popular type of rally that all national and World Rallying Championship (WRC) events are based.

You will also learn about the different types of rallying, how to get involved, safety, rally etiquette and what is required to participate at the different levels.

This in-class course is offered at Algonquin College's Woodroffe Campus, 1385 Woodroffe Avenue, Ottawa, Ontario.

Wednesdays, May 4 to June 8, 2005

and 7:00 pm – 10:00 pm, and

Saturdays, May 28 to June 11, 2005

9:00am – 1:00 pm

Cost: $120.00

For course details contact Craig Hamm at (613) 727-3192 or email stradea@algonquincollege.com

Registration for Spring courses begins April 4, 2005. To register call 727-0002 and quote Course and Section Number MVM0004-531, or register online at www.algonquincollege.com/thesource

For information on Rally Sport Ontario, visit their website at :
www.rallysport.on.ca

ALGONQUIN
COLLEGE